Title 1 reading interventions will be starting at the elementary school. Mrs. Crosby will be teaching students the foundational skills of reading in a small group setting. It is a 30-minute block of time for specific students to have extra practice with the skills they are learning in their classrooms. They will be focusing on phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension.

Students Learn about Timber Harvest Simulators

The students in the Natural Resource classes were able to attend OSU Simulator Lab on September 7 to learn how to use the John Deere simulators for harvesting and loading logs. We have invested in two simulators at the high school and this experience gives students a crash course in their use.

Students are able to practice at any time with two simulators in the classroom. This all will culminate with a contest at the Oregon Logging Conference in Eugene at the end of February.

This year, YHS will hold its first Future Natural Resource Leaders event at the end of October. A competition on the simulators will be featured.

Mr. Sybrant's Home Ec and culinary classes are very popular here at YHS. Home Ec is for the middle school and they learn about home repairs, budgets, and cooking. The students especially love the cooking part because they get to eat their work. This is some of the classwork by the middle schoolers! Pancakes!

Mrs. Westbrook to Mrs Cameron: I will text you next time I'm going to wear this shirt.

The Electrothon Car class, E-car for short, is in its third year. Each year, students get better at building the cars and it is proving to be a popular class. In this picture, a student is getting in a short drive before starting design and construction in E- Car.

Saving Grace

Students from YHS volunteer at Saving Grace Pet Adoption Center once a week.

From PD to the Classroom

In the social studies classroom, Mr. James put to use an idea from Conscience Discipline, part of teachers in-service professional development. Conscience Discipline uses connections with others to help regulate social-emotional learning in students. In his classroom, Mr. James had his students develop handshakes that were unique to each pair. This is just a little piece of a much bigger goal.

Preschool

The Yoncalla Preschool is GROWING! Our program has just been awarded 4 additional slots, meaning that our district is going to be able to serve 40 three- to four-year-olds within our community. We are also welcoming a new lead teacher, Fatemah, into our school family. What an amazing start of a new journey for the Yoncalla Preschool!
