Plans for reopening the Yoncalla School District for 2021-22

Attention Parents of the Yoncalla School District,

As we move towards a new school year, I wanted to share with families and the public Yoncalla School Districts plans for fully reopening our schools to full-day, in-person learning this fall. We will maintain those expectations unless we are directed by the Oregon Department of Education, our local health authority or the State of Oregon otherwise. We will begin to put together a team of parents and staff in late July to look at the new Oregon Department of Education Resiliency Framework for the 2021-2022 school year (COVID 19 safety measures). This document will drive our expectations and actions as we move forward.

There are always many details to opening school in the fall, and this year those details will include things like COVID-19 safety measures for students too young or unable to get the vaccine, are students required to wear a facial covering while indoors, or are the current cleaning protocols working? We will keep families updated as we finalize those details over the summer.

We of course will continue to partner with public health officials and community partners to educate about the importance of getting safely vaccinated.

We hope everyone stays cool and safe this summer.

Respectfully,

Brian Berry
